8. Describe how the school system calculated the enrollment number above.

(i.e. current number of students enrolled, number of interested students via family survey)

The school system calculated the target enrollment number for the proposed virtual or hybrid model using methodology that combines actual attrition data with strategic projections for future demand. The calculation is based on an initial core group of students the district aims to recover followed by a projection of new enrollment growth driven by the popularity of the new offering. The district established a baseline number based on verifiable historical data regarding student loss. The Alternative High School Program experienced an actual decline of 30 students. Through exit data analysis (as noted previously) it was determined that the majority of these 30 students left specifically to seek virtual programs outside the district. The calculation assumes that offering a comparable virtual option within the district will incentivize these 30 students to return. Plus additional students as the district embarks on a strategic marketing campaign. The district projected future enrollment growth by estimating the demand for flexible learning options among the broader student population. Leadership anticipates that the introduction of a flexible virtual/hybrid model will gain significant popularity beyond just those who previously left. The district projects that the total enrollment for this new option will reach approximately 50 students once established. This projection accounts for the initial 30 returning students plus approximately 20 new internal or external transfers who value the flexibility of the new model. The enrollment number of approximately 50 students represents a strategic target derived from recovering documented student attrition and capitalizing on market demand for high-quality flexible learning pathways.

10. Describe how your virtual or hybrid program/campus aligns with the school system's broader strategic goals or improvement plans.

Canyon ISD's strategic plan developed with input from the community is a roadmap focused on maximizing student opportunities strengthening academics supporting staff and preparing for the future. By creating a virtual program the district seeks to maximize student opportunities for those who cannot attend school in a traditional way. Many students now seek private home school options would be able to return to CISD and receive their online instruction from certified teachers in very cost effective manner.

11. Describe what knowledge or experience the school system's leadership team brings to designing and supporting high-quality virtual or hybrid instruction.

The school system's leadership team leverages established institutional knowledge and practical experience derived from successful prior implementations of flexible learning models. This existing foundation is crucial for designing and supporting high-quality virtual or hybrid instruction. The district has successfully operated a hybrid model during its summer school program for several years. This initiative allows students to take select courses asynchronously online providing leadership with valuable experience in curriculum delivery student support and program administration within a flexible format. A primary goal of the summer program has been to create schedule flexibility for students pursuing external opportunities such as practicums internships and apprenticeships while still in high school. This demonstrates the leadership team's expertise in designing educational pathways that integrate remote learning with real-world student needs and career development goals. The leadership team possesses significant experience managing online learning platforms for credit recovery programs as well. This history ensures they understand the technological requirements pedagogical challenges and support structures necessary to effectively deliver measurable academic outcomes through virtual instruction. This cumulative experience provides the leadership with a solid operational framework for scaling up and refining these proven strategies into a comprehensive high-quality virtual or hybrid instructional model for the entire school year.

12. Describe what research, data, or stakeholder input informed the school system's decision to pursue a virtual or hybrid model.

The school system's strategic decision to adopt a virtual or hybrid model was driven by a data-centric approach aimed at reversing declining enrollment trends increasing market share and meeting evolving student needs. The district strategically analyzed "lever data" and exit surveys to identify a critical gap in its program offerings. The data revealed that students were leaving for competing districts that offered at-home virtual learning options. Implementing a virtual/hybrid model is a direct competitive strategy to retain students and prevent further loss. The significant 30-40% decline in the alternative campus's enrollment (from 70-80 to ~50 students) indicated a need to re-evaluate how educational resources were being deployed. The strategic shift to a new model aims to utilize existing resources more effectively and potentially attract a new broader demographic of students who need flexible options. The district used informal surveys as a strategic tool for "voice of the customer" (VOC) input. This direct feedback from departing students highlighted a clear demand for greater flexibility for work schedules. The new model is a direct response to this specific identified need effectively designing a "product" (the learning model) that aligns with documented stakeholder requirements. The ultimate strategic goal is to stabilize and grow overall district enrollment. By addressing the root cause of student attrition identified through data analysis—the lack of flexible remote options—the district is positioning itself to not only recapture lost students but also attract new ones who prioritize work-life balance and flexible learning environments.

13. Which best describes the school system's key areas of need for the virtual/hybrid program?

Note: Answers provided will not limit the type of support the school system will receive if accepted into the program. Instead, this information will be used to better understand the school system's key area of need.

- Aligned, effective vision and model that is responsive to family and student needs.
- Family engagement, communication, and/or recruitment plan.
- Staffing and/or teacher/staff recruitment plan.
- Plan for communicating clear administrator, teacher, student, and family roles within a virtual/hybrid model. (and wherever needed, support for shifting mindsets)
- Instructional framework for designing high-quality virtual and hybrid courses aligned to research-based practices.
- Student attendance and engagement plan.
- School Culture and student well-being plan.
- Plan for supporting special populations and at-risk students.
- Student onboarding sessions, including learning strategies and support for cultivating mindsets rooted in the science of learning, self-directed learning skills, how to use digital tools, and help-seeking during asynchronous and/or synchronous instruction.
- Teacher development (PD and ongoing job-embedded coaching) to deliver high-quality instruction and learning experiences in a virtual/hybrid model.
- High-Quality Instructional Materials. (for core curriculum and adjusted for virtual/hybrid learning)
- Data collection and progress monitoring systems.
- Technology Strategy and Data Privacy Framework. (including hardware, connectivity, digital tools, and cybersecurity policies)
- Master schedule that is appropriately set up for virtual or hybrid learning.

14. Describe which additional topics, areas of support, or identified gaps would be most helpful to strengthen the school system's virtual or hybrid model.

While leaders have experience with the model scaling up requires broader expertise across the teaching staff. The district needs support with providing comprehensive ongoing training for educators on the specific pedagogy of effective online and hybrid teaching which differs significantly from in-person instruction. Implementing intentional strategies for fostering peer collaboration and a sense of belonging as these do not form organically online. Providing training and clear communication to parents/guardians on how to use the learning platforms and support their students at home.

15. Describe which curriculum the school system is currently using, or planning to use for virtual learning for core courses.

The district plans to use Edgenuity as its primary online platform. This program provides a comprehensive standards aligned digital curriculum for students. It is specifically designed for asynchronous learning and allows students to work at their own pace.

16. Which content is the school system considering when adopting new instructional materials or curriculum for virtual learning? (choose all that apply)

Note: Curriculum adoption is not a requirement of the program, but rather an optional support; the response to this question will help us better understand the school system's needs.
